Occupational Focus

Explore your creative talents through Interior Design at Tulsa Tech. The Interior Design Technology program will prepare you for careers in the industry. As you investigate the field of interior design, you will focus on space planning, elements of design, decorating, and furnishings through appropriate computer software and decorative techniques. You will become skilled in lettering, orthographic drawing, and various visual presentations. The course will include outside elements that affect housing choices and landscaping. For information concerning working conditions, physical requirements, employment and job outlook please refer to the Occupational Outlook Handbook (OOH), 2010-11 Edition at <http://www.bls.gov/oco/>.

Tulsa Tech does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, gender, age, marital or veteran status, or disability.

Tulsa Tech is accredited by the Oklahoma Department of Education, the Oklahoma Board of Career & Technology, & the North Central Association--Commission on Accreditation & School Improvement.

Also, where available, our programs are accredited by the specific industry standards associated with their industry.

To remain current with the demands of business and industry, curriculum is periodically revised. The revision may change the number of Tulsa Tech classes that apply toward the college credit. The number of credit hours identified in the agreement the year the student completes the class will determine the credit hours the student receives. Conditions are based on the actual agreements and are subject to change annually.
